Polls Close Tonight
At 7:30 In City's School Bond Ballot

An estimated 1,275 voters had cast ballots this morning in a special school district election on a proposed $3,380,000 bond issue for construction of a new high school and three elementary buildings. Polls will be open until 7:30 tonight.

A survey of two precincts in each of the city's four wards showed 319 actual votes were cast in forenoon balloting. That

Option On Property
Clarified By Blair
Supt. Paul H. Blair today emphasized the Board of Education still has an option on the property of Sullivan and Charles Bosco off Anderson Blvd. as a possible site for an elementary school, but that it may either accept or reject the terms of the option.

The superintendent said he was deluged with phone calls Monday night from North Side and East Side residents after a sub-headline in The Review said the board was "also to buy" the ground.

The story itself, the superintendent made clear, was accurate in that the board was continuing its 30-day option on the ground as a possible site for an elementary school.

would indicate approximately 1,275 votes in the 34 precincts within the city.

In addition, however, residents of all six precincts in Liverpool Township and Glenmoor, Southwest and West precincts of St. Clair Township also are balloting on the proposal.

The survey showed the heaviest forenoon vote in Precinct 2-B where 90 ballots had been cast.

The actual votes in the other city precincts were: 1-B, 41; 1-E, 36; 2-E, 57; 3-C, 27; 3-F, 19; 4-C, 23, and 4-E, 26.

Twenty-seven votes had been cast in the West precinct of Liverpool Township, which votes at Central Fire Station.

Officials estimated the vote will total 6,000.

Meanwhile, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the County Election Board, said the board will make its traditional "flash count" of the returns with an unofficial total expected about 9 p. m.

Presiding judges in the 43 precincts have been instructed to phone the board with returns as soon as the votes have been tabulated.

The judges also have been informed to return the ballots, official records and supplies to the board tonight. The official canvass will be started Wednesday afternoon.

Although many East Liverpool residents swamped the board's office to register Monday afternoon, they will not be permitted to vote in the election today, O'Hanlon said.

The clerk conferred with Secretary of State Ted W. Brown's

Truck Rams
School Bus,
Boy Injured

A 15-year-old Kensington area youth was injured when a truck tractor rammed the rear of a Southern Local school bus loaded with 38 students on Route 644 near Salineville Monday.

George Nemeth, 15, of Kensington R.D. 1 received bruises of the back in the crash which took place about three miles north of Salineville.

The patrol said the bus, driven by Wilbur McKarns, 46, of Hanoverton R. D. 1, had halted to discharge some pupils, then had started moving again when it was struck from behind by the tractor operated by Kenneth Earl Rogers, 23, of Kensington R. D. 1.

Rogers was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

The students were shaken up, and three others were taken to physicians for examinations.

The rear of the bus received considerable damage, school officials said.

Addresses Machinists
Johnson Makes
Plea For Unity

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President Johnson, appealing for national unity and support, said today prosperity must not be sacrificed to partisanship nor progress made the victim of prejudice.

Flying to politically doubtful Florida for the second time in five days, Johnson sought to play the role of "candidate of all the people" in what he labeled a non-political appearance.

The President, who flew to Miami Beach for the convention of the International Association of Machinists, added a second Florida stop — a 90-minute visit to Cape Kennedy — to his itinerary.

In the text prepared for his speech to the machinists, who have formally endorsed his candidacy, Johnson said:

"Unity is our challenge. The prosperity of the many must not be sacrificed to the partisanship of the few. The progress of all the people must not be victimized by the prejudices of any of the people."

Johnson said Americans "can live as we live now — prosperous, progressive and unafraid — so long as we live together —

The contracts of five new teachers were approved by the Midland Board of Education Monday night and seven coaching appointments were made.

Mrs. Mary Hetzler of Beaver Falls was named as a special class instructor in the elementary grades at a salary of $5,000, and Joseph Klemmer of Pittsburgh and Michael Michalak of Monaca were appointed as math instructors in the high school. Klemmer will receive $5,700 and Michalak $4,500.

Mrs. Linda Ramage of Beaver will teach commercial classes at the high school at a salary of $4,800, and Robert Fleming of Aspinwall was appointed as band director and music instructor at a salary of $5,000.

Klemmer was also appointed an assistant football coach at $500 and Paul Farnan was named as assistant basketball coach and baseball coach at a salary of $500 for each position.

Victor Martenetti was named track coach, and Reynold Peduzzi as assistant. Martenetti will receive $500 and Peduzzi $300.

Ed O'lkowski was approved as assistant basketball coach at $750, and Stan Yukica as golf instructor at a salary of $200.

In response to a request by the Midland Band Boosters, Edward Cilli, president, said that a committee consisting of Supt. Edgar Richards and a second board member is to meet with the organization for the purpose of purchasing new uniforms for the band majorities. The Boosters sought the board's aid in purchasing the new outfits.

Government
Will Analyze
Draft System
Part Of Massive Study That Could Halt Military Call

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government plans to analyze Selective Service histories of possibly 290,000 men as part of a massive study that could lead to a halt in the military draft.

Officials told The Associated Press today that Pentagon experts conducting the draft studies for President Johnson have asked the Selective Service System to take a 1 per cent sample of the records of all men in the draft pool.

This involves men between 18½ and 35. Selective Service headquarters said there are about 29 million men in that pool.

The purpose of the sample, authorities explained, will be to "get a more definitive view of the status of people within the pool," from which men are called for induction.

Among other things, the sample will seek to find out to what extent men have moved from one deferred classification to another, thus avoiding induction.

Men being drafted these days average about 22 years old. Roughly 100,000 men a year are inducted, all of them going into the Army.

A little-noticed request to Congress calls for $375,000 to finance the sampling job this fiscal year.

In another phase of the Johnson-ordered study, it was learned, the Census Bureau will make a special effort in its monthly survey of households to determine the attitude of young men toward military service.

This, too, is to be done at the request of authorities conducting the draft study.

About 300,000 households are likely to be touched by the Census Bureau survey, officials said today.

The draft study was ordered by Johnson last April. He said at the time it will consider alternatives, including "the possibility of meeting our requirements on an entirely voluntary basis in the next decade."

Paul Carter Resigns
From Police Force

Patrolman Paul E. Carter, a member of the police department for 10 years, submitted his resignation Monday to Police Chief Americo Radeschi.

The officer asked the resignation be made effective Sept. 29 at the end of his two-week vacation, which started Monday.

In his letter to the chief, Carter said he was "leaving town immediately on a construction job."

Carter was appointed as a regular patrolman Aug. 31, 1954, after working most of the year as a special officer during the administration of Mayor E. Allan McKeever.

Kilnmen Return To Jobs With Meeting
Set On Grievances

Production was back to normal this morning at the Homer Laughlin China Co. after striking kilnhands returned to work with a meeting scheduled to iron out the dispute which idled nearly all of the 1,600 employees.

A company spokesman said a meeting probably will be held within the next few days to discuss the grievance with union representatives.

The kilnhands, members of Local 9, walked off the jobs last Tuesday after the local said the company refused to honor seniority rights on a kiln which had been realigned.

They returned to their jobs Wednesday but later quit work again after a representative of the IBOP had met with them and company officers.

The lack of ware forced the idleness of other employees.

Both the company and IBOP had termed the work stoppage as "illegal" because the grievance had not been processed through the master committee.

Spokesmen for Local 9 in a prepared statement said "red tape" would have required several months and the job opportunity would have been lost.

Mass Meeting Set With Canadian Local

A mass meeting of East Liverpool area pottery locals will be held Monday night with officials of Local 231 of Toronto, Canada, to discuss the contract negotiated by the IBOP for the Canadian sanitary local.

Floyd Jviden of Newell, member of Local 9, said complaints over the contract will be aired, especially the wage phase.

Jviden, who will act as chairman, said members of the IBOP Executive Board have been invited to the meeting, which will be held at 7:30 p. m. in the Eagles Lodge hall.

Pennsy Clears Way
For 3-Firm Merger

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Pennsylvania Railroad cleared the way Monday for the merger of three railroads by announcing it will divest itself of its stock in two of the lines.

Stuart T. Saunders, chairman of the board of the Pennsylvania, said the total sum of the stock involved is $452,000,000 at current prices.

The Pennsylvania will dispose of its almost 100 per cent stock ownership in the Wabash Railroad and its stock in the Norfolk and Western Railway.

Merger of the two railroads with the Nickel Plate Railroad was approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission July 13 providing the Pennsylvania divested itself of its holdings in the railroads. Under the ICC requirement, the Pennsylvania has 10 years from the date of the merger to divest itself of stock in the N & W.

Mindszenty Transfer Looms
Accord Reached
By Vatican And Red Hungary

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican and Communist Hungary signed an accord today giving the Vatican at least partial administrative authority over the Church in that country for the first time in 15 years.

It paved the way also for the eventual transfer of Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty to Rome.

Within minutes after the announcement, the Vatican Press Office said Pope Paul VI had named five new bishops and confirmed one selection by Pope John XXIII but never approved by Hungary.

Vatican officials said the timing indicated the appointment of the new bishops was part of the accord, and that Budapest had approved their nomination.

The Vatican has had no administrative direction over the Church in Hungary since the conviction of Cardinal Mindszenty on charges of treason 15 years ago.

But the status of the cardinal was left unsettled in the new accord, and Vatican sources stressed that he remained in refuge in the U.S. Legation in Budapest.

To Define New Power

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Given strong impetus by Pope Paul VI, the 2,500 Roman Catholic bishops of the Vatican Ecumenical Council start work today on a schema to define sharing of some Papal powers with the bishops.

The pontiff at the ceremonial opening of the council's third session Monday virtually commanded the prelates to clarify "the doctrine of the papacy which will place in its splendid light the role and mandate of the episcopate."

The schema, or topic, before the council at its working session today was titled "De Ecclesia" — on the nature of the church.

Dirksen Proposal
Offered On Theory
Of Johnson's Okay

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate votes today on a legislative reapportionment compromise proposal.

Its acceptance would move the $3.3-billion foreign aid bill a step closer to passage and speed up the timetable for adjournment of Congress.

A battle over a proposal by Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen — to force a delay of a year or more to Supreme Court-ordered reapportionment of seats in both houses of state legislatures on a population basis — has tied up the foreign aid bill for several weeks.

Dirksen offered the proposal as a rider to the foreign aid bill on the theory that President Johnson would not veto that measure. Dirksen's purpose is to gain time until Congress can submit and the states ratify a constitutional amendment nullifying the Supreme Court decision.

In an effort to break the stalemate, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, Johnson's vice presidential running mate, has moved into the picture by backing a "sense of the Congress" compromise first advanced by Sens. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn.

Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., and a group of senators supporting the Supreme Court decision have been conducting a talkathon against the Dirksen rider to prevent its adoption.

Auditorium
Dedication
Set Tonight

The newly-renovated auditorium at Wellsville High School will be formally dedicated during a public ceremony tonight at 8.

The interior has been refurbished, including new seating, new floors, new lights and redecorating.

The cost of the improvement was $17,413.54. This included the tile floor, multi-colored plastic seats and refinishing the stage front. New curtains have been erected for the stage area and new entrance doors installed. The 1964 Senior Class provided a new public address system.

The auditorium is to be used for assemblies, plays and as a study hall area.

William Ferrall, vice president of the Board of Education, will preside tonight.

Miss Sara Paletta will present musical selections. Ferrall will give the welcome address and make the introductions.

Supt. Lowell Myers will speak and Raymond Rolley, board clerk, will review the costs of the renovation.

Ferrall will present the key to the auditorium to William Menough, high school principal, who also will speak.

A drama program will follow under the direction of Joseph Caporossi. Richard Call is the student director.

A play entitled "The Marriage Proposal" will be presented by Ken Dickinson, Lynn Smith and Charles Murrage. Call, Alan Ciccioco and Robert McMillen will present "Great Moments from Great Plays."

During Council Meeting

Salineville Area Families Request Water Extension

SALINEVILLE — A request for an extension of water lines to the Hayti area was presented during a meeting of Council Monday night.

Mrs. Teresa Earich, representing 15 families who have petitioned for the water service, was advised the Board of Public Affairs, Council and the residents would have to have a meeting to fully consider the matter.

Plans then were discussed for such a combined session next week, the date to be arranged later.

COUNCIL TOOK no action on appointing a new member to succeed Clyde Polen, who announced in July he was resigning and who has not attended meetings since.

Councilman Donald Lewis was requested to obtain a written resignation from Polen to pave the way for appointment of a replacement.

Mayor Stanley Fitch said he will have to name a deputy marshal to replace Robert Wilson, who is in a Veterans Administration Hospital at Pittsburgh.

The mayor and the safety committee will meet Wednesday night to discuss an appointee, needed to serve when Special Officer Sherman Newlin has a day off.

The Rev. Delbert Miller of the Assembly of God Church asked Council's permission for the church to purchase eight feet of right of way on Jefferson St. for a planned addition to the church.

Councilmen indicated they believe the purchase on the dead-end section of the street will be approved and directed Solicitor Duane Yeagley to proceed with the necessary surveying, legal advertising and preparation of legislation.

FITCH discussed parking of heavy trucks along Main St. and asked for a Council ban on such parking, declaring it was a traffic hazard. Council took no action on the proposal last night.

Yeagley also was asked to investigate whether a six-foot walkway remains on a section of alley on Maple Hill which was abandoned in 1963. Ronald Kellogg asked about the provision.

Fitch reported on a $100 bid from George Bettis for removal of four dead trees along Main St. Council suggested further bids be received.

The mayor reported the fire department has consented to accept custody of the Civil Defense fire truck which was left in town a number of years ago after the 31st Mobile Support Group disbanded. The fire department will receive the title after three years.

At the recommendation of Councilman Eugene Jarvis, the sale of an old fire hydrant was approved to Phil Maher for $4.

Council will meet again Sept. 28.

Deaths and Funerals

Grover Geer Claimed At 80

Grover C. Geer, 1711 Main St., Wellsville, a retired riverboat captain and former wharfmaster here, died Monday at 4:30 p. m. at City Hospital, where he had been a patient for two days. He was 80.

Mr. Geer had been in charge of the Broadway wharf for many years but had resided in Wellsville about 20 years. When he operated the city wharf, his small tugboat was used frequently in dragging operations for drowning victims.

He was born June 18, 1884, in West Virginia, son of Melvina Geer and Jacob Geer.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Clara Geer; two daughters, Mrs. Mary Lou Hunter of Wellsville and Mrs. Edna Pratt; a son, Robert Geer of Louisville, Ky., and eight grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Services will be held Thursday at 11 a. m. at the Haugh Funeral Home in Wellsville by the Rev. Gordon Hall, pastor of the Glendale Church of the Nazarene. Burial will be in Nessly Chapel Cemetery.

Friends may call Wednesday at the funeral home.

Highway Patrol Seeks Recruits

The Ohio State Highway Patrol needs qualified men to begin training in November for positions as patrolmen, according to Sgt. R. J. Rizzo at the Lisbon Post.

An applicant must be 21, have a high school education, be 5-foot-9 and weigh 160, in top physical condition and interested in law enforcement as a career.

A patrolman begins at $460 a month and in five years advances through the pay scales to $550. He is eligible for a promotion after one year service.

The trainees undergo a 14-week, 600-hour course at the academy in Columbus, including almost 50 hours of weapons firing.

Additional information may be obtained from any officers at the Lisbon Post.

gree at West Virginia University. He has taught in the county system seven years.

In the new post, he assumes duties formerly handled by Clyde Grimm, who retired last year after long service as attendance officer, and Charles McKinney, assistant county superintendent who has been transportation director for a number of years.

Supt. Robert H. Hall said the promotion of Owings will provide the assistant superintendent with additional time for curriculum study and development.

The board also hired seven new teachers and three bus drivers. Some of the new teachers will not be available for duty until November and January. They are:

Linda LaNeve of Newell, mathematics, and Mary Lee Henderson of Cowen, girls' physical education, Chester Junior High School; Robert Koper of Weirton, art and physical education, and Sandra Kay Gilmore, home economics, Weir Junior High.

Sandra Jean Laposta of Weirton, business and English, and David W. Chapman of Weirton, science, New Cumberland Junior High, and Barbara Chetock of New Cumberland, mathematics, unassigned.

Hired as regular bus drivers were Eugene A. Bowers, Thomas Charles Ogden and A. W. Shugart, all of the New Cumberland area. James Robert Hall, 20, of Weirton was employed to train as a building custodian.

Permission was given for three Oak Glen graduates, Patty Price, Shiela Grace and Garfield Fidler, to return to school for credits, along with David Bird of Weir High.

The board granted rights-of-way to Weirton and Chester officials for sewer crossings at Broadview and the Chester primary schools.

Use of county schools as polling sites in the Nov. 3 general election was granted Hancock County Court.

The board agreed to continue membership in the West Virginia Activities Commission, a control agency for extra-curricular activities of junior and senior high schools. The commission had been under fire from State Sen. William Tompos of Weirton for refusal of a request to allow the Weir High Band to visit the New York World's Fair, during the school term.

The Weir Junior Band was authorized to participate in a music festival Thursday at the Weirton shopping center. Use of Weirton Stadium was granted St. Paul's Holy Name Society for a Rosary rally Oct. 11.

office yesterday and was advised those who registered after the registration books were locked Thursday night and distributed to precinct workers are not eligible.

However, the registration will qualify voters for the Nov. 3 general election, he added. The deadline to register is Sept. 23.

O'Hanlon said the law provides that registration books shall close 10 days before an election and remain closed for 10 days after.

Since the special election falls within the deadline to qualify for the November election, the board was advised by Brown's office that it could continue to accept registrations for the general election, O'Hanlon said.

O'Hanlon said the deadline for filing expense statements required by the Corrupt Practices Act is Oct. 30.

The sworn statements of receipts and expenditures are required of all groups or individuals that supported or opposed the bond issue, he said.

City taverns remained open today after Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper ruled that a state law supercedes a city ordinance requiring them to close.

The city code requires taverns to close except for those with Class G permits authorizing the sale of 3.2 beer.

After many tavern operators questioned why the Ohio Liquor Store would remain open but they were required to close, a check of the state law showed taverns are required to close on the days of general or primary elections. It specifically exempts closing on the date of a special election.

Youth, 17, Picked Up In Stolen Auto Case

A 17-year-old city youth was turned over to Juvenile Officer James Miller Monday by police in the theft of a relative's auto.

Police recovered the 1954 auto of Thomas Richard Reedy, 201 Baum St., at 6:38 a. m. near Westgate School, about 50 minutes after the owner reported the auto was missing from Baum St.

Reedy told police the car had been stolen between 11:45 p.m. Sunday and 6:04 a. m. yesterday.

We Make The Decision

There will be numerous occasions before Nov. 3 for voters to wonder why candidates did thus and so in their campaigns — why they cast this aspersion, or made that allegation.

There is only one reason. The candidates are seeking votes. Everything they say is in the hope of winning support at the polls on Election Day.

Their tactics reflect what they think will win the most support from the most people. This is the art of electioneering. This is the essence of what is meant by "playing politics."

Every allegation, innuendo, aspersion, slur, charge, countercharge, assertion and denial has been calculated to draw support to one candidate and away from his opponent.

If sometimes the candidates seem to be insulting the intelligence of some voters, it is because they hold the intelligence of other voters in low esteem.

If candidates sometimes seem to be leading voters astray, it is because they believe — or have been advised — that people like to be fooled, exactly as P.T. Barnum said they did. Unfortunately, Barnum was right.

Ultimately, the people make the decision — not the candidates. And when the decision has been made and the losers have congratulated the winners, the candidates and their managers will hash it over, comparing notes and reminiscences on crowd behavior as they observed it in the electioneering in 1964.

In the meantime, it's the crowd's turn to observe the electioneers.

Very interesting, some of them. Do they really think people are that stupid?

By DAVID LAWRENCE

One sometimes sees a race in which the favorite horse jumps off to a lead of several lengths at the start and almost everybody in the stands immediately concludes it is all over — and then another horse moves up gradually and at the finish line just noses out the front. David Lawrence runner. This could describe the presidential race now under way, provided the current second-place runner really learns in time how to run for the highest office in the land and can overcome the handicaps of publicity against him which benefit his competitor.

President Johnson has had a masterful job of publicity done in his behalf. From the moment he came into the White House on Nov. 22, 1963, the eyes of the nation have been fastened on him. He has had at least seven months of uninterrupted opportunity — through TV, radio and the press — to present a favorable image of himself to the people and to capitalize on the political assets developed by his predecessor, without assuming many of the liabilities.

The Republican party, on the other hand — being disorganized, as an opposition party usually is — did not make use of the same facilities of expression available to it.

The opposition, of course, does not have the benefit of the vast governmental machine which engages in many a politically motivated action of an official nature and pours out statements of almost every conceivable subject that could affect the voters.

Already the Democratic politicians, with their private polls, power will learn how to organize a continuing opposition to carry on every day of every year. This is done effectively in Great Britain.

It's not at all surprising, therefore, that many of the public opinion polls today show Mr. Johnson in the lead by a substantial margin. The polls have been wrong before — even as recently as the California Republican primary in June — but they do reflect a simple fact of life in politics. It's that whoever occupies the White House has from the outset of a campaign a long lead on any rival candidate and can be dislodged only if there is a strong protest or negative vote. This usually turns out to be more of an accumulation of grievances over things that are being blamed on the incumbent administration than necessarily an expression in favor of the rival candidate.

SOME DAY the party out of are discounting the crossover vote, but this, of course, is something of which they can't be sure.

Surprises have occurred again and again in American political history. Favorites don't always win, as was evidenced last week when a favorite, Gov. Peabody of Massachusetts, was beaten for renomination in the Democratic primary even though he had the endorsement of the Kennedy family. Maybe the private polls were wrong there, too.

MR. JOHNSON seems to have a good chance to be elected — he certainly is the favorite in the betting today — but he can't be too sure of victory. Nobody knows the extent of the protest vote, and no polls can accurately reflect it. The issues are such that many people prefer not to indicate their leanings to anybody. Some are silent through fear, and others don't like to argue with their neighbors, and least of all to talk to interviewers for polls.

Mr. Johnson has had experience with close elections and is likely, therefore, to keep on running hard till the last day of the campaign.

The Bobby Baker case will get some more headlines, but unless the disclosures can pinpoint a direct connection with Mr. Johnson himself, there is not likely to be much mileage in that issue for the Republicans.

Mr. Johnson had a tough task in a political sense when he took over the presidency. He had to sell himself quickly as a stable, effective leader. Being an experienced politician with some veteran political experts surrounding him, he has been able to line up not only the local politicians but a few executives in big business.

The rush to support Mr. Johnson by some of the beneficiaries of government contracts and of other financial outlays in various communities has been noticeable.

IN THE LAST analysis, however, the big question is whether the undercurrent of protest against the conditions produced by the rise in crime, by civil rights riots and by federal intrusion into community life is strong enough to swing to the Republican side the bulk of the "undecided" vote — as the pollsters call it — and to recover some of those who at first deserted the Republican nominee.

Sen. Goldwater has less than two months in which to make his campaign. He can't just try to counter the platitudes uttered by his opponent with his own set of platitudes. He can articulate the protest and discontent in the country on a variety of subjects — among them a depreciating dollar and a disintegrating foreign policy that could bring on a big war.

By explaining persuasively the significance of these points to the average man, the Republican nominee may increase substantially the percentage of the vote he has today and perhaps fool the pollsters in November.

Help Wanted—Either Sex

National Association of Manufacturers is putting on seminars to show employers what's ahead when the Civil Rights Act goes into effect next year. One little noticed word is getting special attention.

The law bans discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin in hiring, assigning, promoting, firing, or pensioning employees. It also bans discrimination on the basis of sex.

This means women can lay claim to a wide variety of jobs, promotions and prerequisites hitherto denied them by employers who discriminated against females.

Naturally, because the law says there shall be no discrimination because of sex, the law also means men, too, may lay claim to jobs now being barred to them because they are males. Impartiality will be guaranteed to both sexes, though the impact on women is expected to be greater.

What the NAM seminars are bringing to light is that employers will have to accept both sexes and no questions asked when hiring, promoting, assigning, firing and pensioning. They cannot even advertise for male and female help.

The situation will be especially touchy in relation to women, who may take it into their heads to lay claim to many jobs they have not traditionally been considered for, including vice presidencies, presidencies and board chairmanships.

There are even some forward-lookingers saying the Civil Rights Act of 1964 will be remembered longer for firming up the status of women in employment than for firming up the status of Negroes.

Main Artery Of Wealth

A quiet decision by Aluminum Co. of America, largest producer, illustrates a glowingly important fact of life about the Ohio-Mississippi Valley.

Aluminum producers are shifting from their one-time reliance on hydroelectric energy to future reliance on coal. ALCOA will build its next major plant in the Ohio Valley, according to John D. Harper, president of the company.

Three considerations have prompted the decision.

First is the fact hydroelectric plants involve all the complications that go with government control of public waterways.

Second is the fact improving techniques in aluminum production are changing requirements for plant sites, which once had to be in proximity to hydroelectric facilities because nowhere else could enough electricity be generated cheaply enough.

Third is the fact the market for aluminum is not now and never was in proximity to the sources of hydroelectric power. All things considered, it is more important and now to build plants where coal deposits are nearby. And in the Ohio Valley, both coal deposits and the market for aluminum are nearby.

ALCOA already owns coal deposits in the Ohio Valley.

Chalk up one more score for the natural resources making the Valley more and more what it has been from the beginning — one of the main arteries of economic wealth in the entire world.

Vietnamese Success Story

Once upon a time, there was a young man in South Viet Nam who decided to enter the army because his country was torn asunder by people with varying political philosophies.

He was a diligent soldier. He kept his shoulder to the wheel, his ear to the ground and his nose to the grindstone. Before long, he became adept and was raised to the rank of lieutenant.

Then the winds of change blew over his nation. Its premier was deposed. Before you could say "Dienbienphu," the young man was a captain.

Then the man who was the leader of the coup that had deposed the premier was deposed. And the young man became a major.

"Aha," he said, "I have discovered a shorter path to success."

He thereupon abandoned his pursuit of becoming a better soldier.

"The enemy?" he mused. "Who needs enemies when there are friends to fight?"

And he abandoned his pursuit of the enemy and took up the great national pastime of fighting friends.

One coup led to another, and each time the young soldier climbed the ladder of success a little higher.

We wish we could remember the young man's unpronounceable name. One day soon, he might emerge as the South Vietnam's strong man.

were better at it than I was had ceased to be fun.

It seemed as if the other people were getting bigger and stronger and I was tenderer in sensitive spots. Finally there came an eventful afternoon when fate and coaching pitted me against a behemoth who had made the all-conference team two years in a row and was being mentioned as a prospect for Walter Camp's mythical all-American, along with a high-stepping teammate who carried the ball through the gaping holes opened by this muscular character.

THAT WAS THE coup de grace. As those two and their ruthless teammates thundered over my limp and broken body, I decided I had proved what I set out to prove those many years before. Quod est demonstrandum, as we used to say in geometry class.

It is possible for a little man to have fun playing football as long as the opposition isn't too much bigger than he is. But when the opposition grows gigantic, a little man is in imminent danger of losing his life.

They carried me off the field on a stretcher that last afternoon. My football career was over. My desire had run out. It has lasted seven years.

By VICTOR RIESEL

If this year is no different from other crisis years in the auto industry, wildcat strikes will soon be flaring through the big car plants of the land.

These won't just be exercises in flat-foot picketing and expenditure of lung power at plant gates. If the past is a prelude, these wildcats can be costly. Everybody appears to have forgotten that GM workers struck for six weeks in '58 at a cost of $50 million. Three years later, 90 GM plants were hit by strikers for almost two weeks, until the wildcatters were put out of action by a triple play from the late John Kennedy to Arthur Goldberg to Walter Reuther.

Why is the rank- and - file strike - happy? The answer is frequently found far from Detroit. The rank- and - file and their regional chiefs develop demands of their own.

VERY FEW know that at this very time General Motors employs around the company's 125 plants in 19 states and 68 cities have made 21,000 local demands on the corporation. Originally there were 23,000 — very few of which had anything to do with the big bargaining in Detroit.

What do the rank- and - file want? Their demands run the gamut from the silly to the serious: for more grass and a bigger lawn; for snow removal; for a plant manager to get up at 2 a.m. to help local radio stations prepare broadcasts on weather and road conditions in the wintertime; for more drinking fountains; closer parking lots; different types of toilets; and special washing facilities.

There are local demands for different rotation of overtime; for less work for supervisors so there can be more work for union men; for posting letters reporting available jobs in certain departments; for faster settling of grievances; for different systems of promotions; for equal rates of pay for similar work in each plant regardless of regional standards for shifting of seniority lists; for a slower assembly line and for a voice on the amount of work a man should do.

EACH OF the 21,000 local demands must be discussed and settled plant-by-plant. Each has a cost factor. Local management is not apt to rush a decision on inner plant promotions or even on new systems of notifying radio stations on commuting conditions.

This year the process may be even slower. Few realize that if the Chrysler peace pact with Walter Reuther is a sign of things to come in the other contracts, the auto industry will be paying about $1 billion more annually for wages and fringe benefits starting with the fall of 1966.

Not all of this money will go to the followers of Walter Reuther. It's not generally understood that what the companies do for Reuther's blue collar hourly rated followers, the firms also do for the salaried white collar, non - union office en top priority if he is elected the state's chief executive Nov. 3. Smith told the gathering.

He said he found in a tour of Hancock that secondary roads are the "most troublesome" problem in the county right now.

"I plan to introduce as top priority legislation that will revise the system on which the State Road Commission allocates funds so it will be based on population served, not upon the number of miles of roads in a particular county," Smith said.

He said that although Hancock and Brooke Counties are two of the most populous in the state, they receive less road funds because they have the least amount of road mileage. "My plan will mean Hancock will receive its equitable share."

Under the administration of Gov. W. W. Barron, Hancock has received a total of $1,720,000 for primary and secondary road repairs, "much more than previously," Smith said.

In his tour from Chester to Weirton, he said he found the people of Hancock concerned with affairs of government and wanting to know the issues of the campaign.

"There is only one issue in this campaign — shall we continue with the present movement of progress with the Democrats or go under water with Underwood and backwards with Barry," he said.

"What leadership can we expect from the team of Cecil H. Underwood and Barry Goldwater?" He referred to the Republican gubernatorial candidate and the Arizona presidential candidate.

"I don't think you will forget the performance of Underwood in the late 1950's when 105,000 West Virginians were unemployed with no prospect for employment."

"While this was going on, Underwood did nothing, even though he could have and should have had help from the Republican administration in Washington."

"When West Virginia was wallowing in poverty, scooter Underwood was scooting around the country trying to become a candidate for vice president."

"I seek your support, your heart and your votes because I believe in a great America and a West Virginia."

Smith was introduced by Atty. Edward A. Zagula, chairman of the Democratic committee in Hancock. Atty. Donald Donell was toastmaster. A number of candidates for county offices were introduced.

Beaver Signs 1,060 Voters

James B. Keifer, chief registrar, said that 1,060 Beaver County residents took advantage of the extended hours at his office in the courthouse Monday to register to vote in the Nov. 3 election.

The count showed 729 registering as Democrats; 267, Republicans, and 44 others. There were also 142 changes of address recorded.

A series of field registrations which were conducted throughout the county, netted 5,900 new registrations, he said. There were 4,380 new Democrats registered, 1,402 Republicans, and 118 others. Changes of address were made by 910.

The completed registration brings the unofficial county total of eligible voters to 57,363 Democrats, 39,846 Republicans, and 798 others.

'Misunderstanding' Blamed In Registration Rush Here

Apparently misinterpreting television broadcasts about the deadline for registering to vote, East Liverpool residents swamped the County Election Board office Monday.

Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said the largest number of inquiries since registration opened following the May primary kept the board's staff so busy it virtually was unable to transact regular business.

The misunderstanding apparently arose because area television and radio stations were reminding Pennsylvanians that yesterday was the deadline to register in that state.

The deadline for East Liverpool residents to qualify for the Nov. 3 general election is Sept. 23 at 10 p. m., O'Hanlon emphasized.

He cautioned, however, that voters can qualify only by making a personal visit to the board's office on W. 6th St. opposite City Hall. Registrations cannot be made by phone, he said. East Liverpool is the only sub-division where registration is required.

Persons who haven't voted at a primary, general or special election in the last two years are required to register, along with those whose names have been changed by marriage or court action.

Residents who have become 21 since the last election or will be 21 on or before Nov. 3 also must register if they wish to

Coming September 23...three different new Ramblers
THE SENSIBLE SPECTACULARS
65's most sweeping changes...in size...in style...in power

We can tell you this about the new automobiles coming to market for 1965:

No other new cars will be more dramatically changed, or better attuned to the new motorizing age, than the '65 Ramblers.

These Ramblers are changed, but not for the sake of change.

They are changed to meet today's changing tastes, changing traffic, changing turnpike demands, changing car uses.

To meet the challenge of these changes, we designed three different kinds of Ramblers, in three different sizes, on three different wheelbases, in three different price ranges.

We powered these Ramblers with seven spectacular engines, Sixes and V-8s, including Torque Command, world's most advanced engine. Boosts both power and economy.

We put new brawn and heft into these Ramblers, new space inside, yet kept the famed easy handling, parking, maneuverability.

We added new features to the long list of extra-value features you get at no extra cost—added new sportiness and action—added new glamor models, including dazzling new convertibles in Ambassador and Classic

These new 1965 Ramblers you will see next week are Ramblers through and through—the most sensible Ramblers we have ever built.

But they are also the most spectacular Ramblers in history—spectacular in looks, size, beauty, performance.

Thus, they named themselves. They are The Sensible Spectaculars. No other words describe them better, more honestly.

When you see the new Ramblers on Wednesday, September 23—sit in them, drive them—you will understand the honesty of the name—The Sensible Spectaculars.

We invite you to see the 1965 Ramblers yourself—at your Rambler dealer, next week.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm 20 and have been married four years. My husband (who is 26) has been having an affair with a 16-year-old girl. She used to sit with our children but I stopped calling her when I suspected something was going on.

When I found love letters from her in my husband's shirt pocket (she had mailed them to his office) I telephoned and asked her to come over for a talk.

She seemed eager to do the right thing and promised never to see my husband again. Well, she is seeing him, almost every night, and I don't know what to do about it. I can't get a straight sentence out of him. He is the world's biggest liar.

Divorce is out of the question. Our religion allows only one marriage and this is it — lousy or not.

The girl is under age and I'd like to know if I can do anything legal to break this up.—CORN-SILK.

Dear Cornsilk: Since the girl is under age you can have your husband put in jail. But what would you have then, besides a husband in jail?

The girl is the same age you were when you married the beef. If you'd like to write a letter for other 16-year-olds who think they are in love and want to get married I'd be happy to print it.

For now, your best bet is to meet the competition with the type of ammunition you think would be most effective.

Cinderella '64 Style

Dear Ann: I'm a widow in my early 50s. My father-in-law died recently and in his will he named me an heir along with his two daughters.

The daughters say the will is not valid because a daughter-in-law does not have equal rights according to the law and I'd better not try to "horn in."

When my father-in-law was alive he came to me with his mending, his letters to be written and fresh berries for the pies he wanted me to bake.

He felt very comfortable in my home and told me repeatedly that his daughters were good girls but their husbands made it plain they didn't want "the old man around too much."

My sisters-in-law are urging me to sign papers forfeiting my share of the estate "to save the embarrassment of a court fight" which they say I will surely lose.

I'm not hard up financially, but neither are they. The tension is getting me down. What should I do? — NOT MONEY-HUNGRY BUT WANTING FAIRNESS.

Dear Not Money-Hungry: Put the matter in the hands of a lawyer. I'm reasonably certain he will tell you that your sisters-in-law are all wet.

In the meantime, play deaf and don't sign anything. Toots.

White Wedding

Dear Ann: I recently attended a wedding where the mother of the bride wore a two-piece white lace dress.

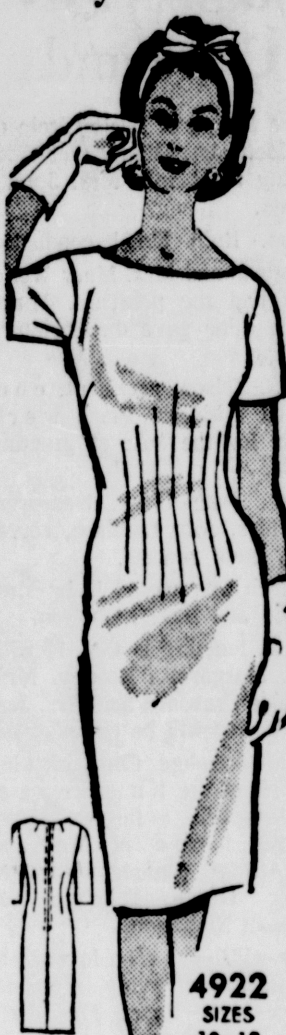

I noticed in the newspaper that at the Goldwater wedding the attendants wore white silk organza gowns.

I always thought it was improper for anyone but the bride to wear white at a wedding. Has the custom been changed recently or have I been misinformed? Some important money is riding on your answer, so please check carefully. — DIXIE.

Dear Dixie: I hope you didn't bet the rent, Petunia. White is perfectly proper for weddings. In fact, "all-white" weddings are becoming increasingly fashionable.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Gallo of the Columbiana Rd. were honored at a surprise party given by their children Saturday evening at the St. George Parish Hall for 100 friends and relatives.

Mrs. Gallo is the former Miss Mary Lewis, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Lewis of West Point, and Gallo is the son of Mrs. John Gallo of Am-bridge and the late Mr. Gallo. They were married Sept. 16, 1939, at St. Agatha's Catholic Church of West Point by Fr. Francis Palm.

Have Five Children

They are the parents of five, Mrs. Larry Brown of Hillcrest Heights, Md., Glen of Lisbon, and Virginia, Roger and Gene at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Isreal of Damascus entertained 25 guests at a family dinner party Saturday evening at the Pancake House on Route 62, followed by a social evening at the Isreal home.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Heilbroner of E. Lincoln Way attended.

Scallops usually need no more than 4 to 5 minutes of simmering in order to be cooked through and tender; overcooking toughens this shellfish.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: Aquarium owners... the good news is your famous nylon net. It can be used harmlessly instead of glass wool, etc., in the pump on top of the charcoal. It can be washed out when dirty and discarded and replaced when worn out... and wear out it might, but slowly. This nylon net saves a few pennies and is very nice to handle. I have green nylon net in my aquarium to match my plants and it some how camouflages the whole pump outfit!

Also, a small piece of your nylon net is superb for cleaning the inside walls of any aquarium! It leaves no scratches on the glass and cleans all algae and particles in the aquarium and leaves the glass crystal clear.

FISH BREEDER.

DEAR HELOISE: We thought you might be interested in our group. We are young mothers, or mothers-to-be, who have been meeting for about six months now. Our ages are between 19 and 25, and the babies vary from seven weeks to 10 months. We meet once a week, rotating the hostess duties each time, and trade recipes, cooking and cleaning tips, house plants and general household hints.

By sharing our personal experiences in child raising and housekeeping, we always find ways to help one another become better mothers and housekeepers.

We hope that gals in other towns will start a group such as ours and reap the many benefits from learning to gether as we are doing.

YOUNG MOTHERS.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: In regard to the question from a woman in a recent column of yours pertaining to why aluminum utensils warp...

Just for a smile I add my cousin's standard comment in such matters: "When everything else fails, read the instructions."

HAROLD M. ROBINSON.

DEAR HELOISE:

We just bought a new television set. Now the problem is what to do with the old set. It is still in good condition except for the working parts. It is a blond upright model with swivel base.

What I want to know is what can we make out of the cabinet? It is too good just to haul away to the dump.

Do any of your readers have any ideas?

ONE OF YOUR FANS.

Anyone have any bright ideas? If so, write to me in care of this paper. Letters do not have to be signed to appear in this column.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When I bake or roast a stuffed bird, I always make extra stuffing, put it in foil loaf-type pans, and set them in the pan beside the bird.

These pans not only help balance the bird, but the extra stuffing tastes like the rest when used later. It is not dry and tasteless as when baked in a separate casserole.

I use my largest roasting pan.

PHYLLIS FAUBLE.

DEAR HELOISE: When I buy any washable articles, I always save the little tags with the washing instructions. I write on the tag what the article is, such as "Beige Curtains", or "Black Evening Dress".

I put these instructions in a recipe file box and when I'm ready to wash these special fabrics, I check with my file. This way, I always have the proper washing instructions at hand. It also helps to have a stain chart filed in the back of the file box. Eliminates all guess work.

NANCY A

DEAR HELOISE: Other women have written in giving their hints for filling in the space between the stove and the sink to keep things from falling between them, but I think I like my way the best...

I use masking tape about one and one-fourth inches wide, and cover the space between my stove and counter.

Maybe they would like to try my idea.

MRS. GERTRUDE GLASS.

Rally For Bible Club Program Set Friday

Out Of The Air

By RICHARD K. DOAN

Mickey Has Big Things On The Fire

Mickey Rooney, peppery and glib as ever, darted around a 25th-floor suite at the St. Moritz Hotel, acting out the opening of a comedy he has written and hopes to star in on Broadway. He never has played Broadway. It's titled "The Difference Between Night and Day," and it's a takeoff on murder mysteries. Agnes Moorehead plays a dowager in it, Mickey explained first. He and Johnny Winters are a couple of private detectives.

"He's Day and I'm Night," Mickey rattled on, "and we don't miss anything."

"I'LL HAVE all the old cliches," he promised as he gaily recited some of the lines. "Broadway hasn't had much of this and is ready for it."

When he is going to bring in the show?

"When I can allocate time for it," he answered confidently. "It'll be a year from now, anyway."

Meanwhile, besides starring in a new weekly TV situation comedy on ABC beginning this month, Rooney is (1) going to Ireland late in March to do a movie with the Abbey Players about an ex-prizefighter; (2) immediately after that, going to Mexico City to make a movie, "The Treasure of Laguna Largo," in which he'll play a Mexican; (3) preparing in a couple of months to open the first of what he hopes will be a nationwide chain of talent schools.

ALL THIS, the 5-foot-3 comedian suggested, means he isn't going to lose any sleep over the unpredictabilities of the TV ratings rat race.

"You don't put all your eggs in one basket," he philosophized. "If the show doesn't make it, we'll be sorry, but not broken hearted."

He is pitted against Dick Van Dyke.

"Dick is a great guy and has a wonderful show," Rooney conceded. But he said he didn't think that necessarily guaranteed that his show wouldn't make the grade.

"Maybe we'll be good, too," he argued.

THE MICKEY ROONEY Talent Schools of America will get into operation in about 60 days with a pilot project out in the San Fernando Valley.

The 44-year-old comedian is convinced there is a "vast need" for competent schools to train talented youngsters in "every facet of show business."

He insists that if his idea, which he says he has been toying with for 20 years, takes hold, it won't simply be a franchising operation capitalizing on his name. He's going to work at it.

"We're going to discover many new stars," he promised. "We're bound to. Of course, the schools won't spring up like mushrooms. The whole thing's

Home To Reveal Voting Date For Britain Election

LONDON (AP) — Britain's general election campaign moved into high gear today as Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home prepared to announce the voting date after an audience with Queen Elizabeth II.

The prime minister's supporters said he would announce that the election of a new House of Commons will be Oct. 15.

Douglas-Home flew Monday night to Balmoral Castle, in Scotland, to ask the queen to dissolve Parliament. Parliament already is in recess and will not meet again before the election.

Campaigning already is under way. Douglas-Home flew to Balmoral after a whistle-stop tour of Kent. In eight speeches he stressed his Conservative party's determination that Britain should keep an independent nuclear deterrent.

Harold Wilson, leader of the opposition Labor party, speaking in Lancashire, thumped away at the rise in land prices.

Lausche Delays Talk To Johnson On Ohio Matters

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, has put off until later a discussion with President Johnson on matters of interest to Ohio, a Lausche aide said Monday night.

Ray White, administrative assistant to Lausche, said the senator had an appointment with Johnson Monday morning. However, upon being informed that Johnson could not discuss with Lausche the location of a proposed national environmental health center, White said, Lausche departed from the White House.

A presidential aide said that Johnson already had declined to discuss the possible location of the center with several other senators, White reported.

He said that Lausche announced that if this were so he did not want to take up the President's valuable time with other discussion at present.

White said that later in the day Lausche talked with the President by telephone and that the senator expects to meet with

Offers OK'd On Southern Local Buses

Bids from a Carrollton agency for two new buses were tentatively approved by the Southern Local School District Board of Education Monday night.

The board chose the bids of Huebner Chevrolet of Carrollton for two 60-passenger buses, one with a Carpenter body and one with a Superior body.

Huebner bid $6,263 for the Carpenter and $6,248 for the Superior, including trade-in on two 1965 buses. These were the lowest bids, according to the board. The bids will be sent to state officials for approval.

Other bidders were Lehman Ford of Lisbon, O. S. Hill of East Liverpool, Ideal Chevrolet of Wellsville, Wimmer Motors of East Liverpool and Bob White Ford of Wellsville.

In other action, the board discontinued the policy of permitting the Senior Class to take long class trips at the end of the final term.

Board members said the various fund-raising projects undertaken by the class to finance the trip were a burden on area residents. One-day educational trips will be allowed, the board ruled.

Martin Adams was appointed delegate to the Ohio School Boards Association meeting at Columbus and Robert Skinner was named alternate.

Plans were discussed for the proposed 8.8-mill levy on the November ballot — a 4.4 renewal and a 4.4-mill new levy for operations.

Parent - Teacher Association groups will be requested to aid in promotion of the levy.

In other action, the board authorized letters to Salineville and township officials, requesting co-operation in keeping roads clear of snow for school bus travel.

The Dairy Marketers Association was granted permission to use the high school for a dinner in October. Preparation of a list of substitute cooks from a list of applications was authorized.

Transfer of funds for Title Three projects was approved. Next meeting will be Oct. 12.

'Ruritan Of Year' Named By Club

The winner is shown with his wife, and Jerry Steele, center, president.

A rural mail carrier, Geren is immediate past president of the club and was selected on the basis of his participation in club projects, attendance and promoting goals of Ruritan.

He was given an inscribed plaque. Steele also presented Geren, 41, with a Ruritan ring on behalf of the club. Mrs. Geren received a bouquet of roses.

This is the first year for the award. The club previously chose a "woman of the year."

Thirty-six attended the event at which wives of members were guests. Harold Ginder, East Liverpool High School teacher and coin collector, was the speaker.

Ginder discussed his hobby of coin collecting and displayed several types of coins. He has won awards for his collection.

Ginder was initiated into the club by Geren. The Rev. Irwin Jennings, chaplain, led a special tribute to Nathan Loran, a club member who died last week.

Steele announced the nominating committee of Harold (Mickey) Wright, chairman, Rev. Jennings and Gary James. They are to report at the October meeting.

The next meeting will be Oct. 12. The entertainment committee will be Allen Smith and Dick Kidder.

Door-To-Door Project

Democrats Will Conduct Countywide Fund Drive

A door-to-door canvass for funds for the Democratic campaign will be conducted throughout Columbiana County Saturday, Don R. Gosney, county party chairman, said today.

The drive, designed to place political financing on a broader public basis, will be part of a statewide canvass over the weekend.

The first time such a project has been undertaken in this district, it gives the opportunity for everyone to contribute to the party, Gosney said.

About 500 are expected to take part in the solicitation, which is headed by County Auditor Kenneth Bell of Wellsville.

Mrs. Iris Applegate, Clyde Christian and Atty. Paul Tobin are in charge of the city drive, and Mrs. Grace Wilson heads the Wellsville campaign.

The Lisbon solicitation will be directed by Robert McNally, Lew Sowers and the Junior Democrat Club.

Funds obtained will be used for advertising, promotion, mailing costs, meetings and other campaign needs, Gosney said.

He said plans are being made for the annual Jefferson-Jackson Day Dinner to be held in October with a top ranking member of the administration at Washington as speaker.

Damage to Mrs. Whitney's 1957 sedan was termed minor. Industry police investigated.

Board To Ask Road Repair At Wellsville

Hitting at the "deplorable" condition of the Route 45 hill leading to Hillcrest and the danger it constitutes to children riding school buses, the Wellsville Board of Education Monday night voted to ask state officials for immediate action to make repairs to the road.

Supt. Lowell Myers termed the road "deplorable." He said there are many places almost too narrow for larger vehicles such as school buses to pass, there are no shoulders in places, the guardrails are broken and in many sections the pavement has sunken.

"The buses must travel the road and thereby constitutes a danger to the hundreds of students who are passengers," he said.

He urged letters be sent various officials and the State Highway Department asking for immediate repairs and long-range planning for a four-lane highway.

Daniel MacLean, board member, said he feels the repairs are necessary but does not believe a four-lane highway would be feasible.

Other members agreed but it was contended that the road definitely needs to be widened.

Myers said the section is heavily traveled by large coal trucks. When these pass the buses, one wheel usually goes off the pavement. "Maybe we won't get four lanes, but maybe we can get three," he asserted.

Myers said the state is to be complimented on keeping the hill clear during the winter, but said that the road is sloped the wrong way in many places and is very crooked.

William Ferrall, vice president, said it warrants immediate attention. "At least the state should act on the request for sufficient guardrails and better terms," he said.

Dr. Janis Lauva pointed out the highway is marked for a 60-mile an hour speed but that it is not safe to travel at that rate.

Lester Bickle, principal of Fairview School in Hillcrest, and supervisor of bus transportation, also commented that the road is dangerous. He said there was a near accident involving an empty school bus this year in which "another foot marked the difference between the bus going over the hill and remaining on the highway."

Myers said some teachers refuse to travel up the hill and some refuse to even substitute at Fairview.

He also pointed out there are no signs marking bus stops along the section.

The board voted to send letters to Rep. Clarence Wetzel, Sen. Edmund Sargus, the State Highway Department and the department's Division 11 office at New Philadelphia.

Evaporated milk must be chilled before whipping; it's a good idea to chill the bowl and beater, too.

Orioles Edge Twins In Ninth, 4-3, To Take 1½ Lead

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's been a fun year for Ken Rowe, the working pitcher in baseball, and because of him, the Baltimore Orioles are liable to laugh themselves right into the American League pennant.

Baltimore, shopping around for late-season help in their pennant push, picked up relief pitcher Rowe from the Los Angeles Dodgers' Spokane farm club in the Pacific Coast League last week. He pitched his first inning in relief for the Orioles Monday night and came up a winner when Baltimore pushed across a run in the bottom of the ninth to edge Minnesota 4-3.

Rowe, who seems to thrive on work, set an organized baseball record for appearances, coming in 88 times, before being purchased by the Orioles.

The big 30-year-old right-hander enjoyed all the assignments. "It's been a fun year and I've really been lucky," he said. "I consider it a challenge — a personal challenge — each time I'm called in from the bullpen."

Monday night the Twins challenged Rowe and came out

In the only other American League game scheduled, Kansas City edged Boston 7-6.

The Orioles' lead over second place New York stretched to 1½ games. Third place Chicago is two games back.

Brooks Robinson and Sam Bowers homered for Baltimore.

Ninth inning back-to-back triples by Dick Green and Bill Bryan tied the game and a ground rule double by Ed Charles won it as Kansas City came from behind against Boston.

John Wyatt, another workhorse, made his 73rd appearance for the A's tying Boston's Dick Radatz for the AL record. Jim Konstanty set the major league mark with 74 in 1950.

Club Eyes New Project Nonpareil Hopes Everything Will Come Out In The Wash

By CHUCK CRONIN
Review Sports Writer

Remember the traditional football cheer that goes "Wash 'em out, wring 'em out, hang 'em on the line....?"

The next line goes something like this: "We can beat Big Red (for example) any old time."

But mothers of the Potter football players can probably dream up a better one. For instance:

"We're the ones who wash the gear every darn time."

TAKE HEART mothers. If the Blue and White Nonpareil Club sees through a proposal of having a commercial laundry installed at Patterson Field, there'll be no more sweat-soaked T shirts and socks of your All-Americans on Wednesdays.

Such a facility would cost in the neighborhood of $2,500, a big chunk of cash for the Nonpareil Club to come up with in a city of East Liverpool's size.

If any club can do it, however, the Nonpareil Club is the one.

In the few short years of its existence, the Nonpareil Club has been like a doting, generous grandfather to East Liverpool's athletic program. (Nonpareil is a French derived word meaning without equal.)

WHAT HAS it accomplished in the city in a mere 14 years? One should think of the club when he:

1. Proceeds down a concrete ramp to the field.
2. Thrills at fireworks signaling a Potter touchdown.
3. Sees the basketball team wearing neat, blue blazers.
4. Attends the post season football banquet.

The list could go on and on. A rough estimate of the money spent by the Nonpareil Club in East Liverpool on athletics would be $35,000.

The club bought the scoreboard at the stadium, has painted the wire fence, helped install new lockers and showers that are the envy of visiting teams, purchased mouthpieces

Phils Extend Lead To 6½

Short Tops Houston In Win No. 17

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

While the Philadelphia Phillies virtually are running away with the National League pennant, they are enjoying an intramural game of follow the leader.

Their latest game came Monday night as they defeated Houston 4-1 and increased their lead to 6½ games over the second-place St. Louis Cards, whose game at Milwaukee was rained out.

Chris Short posted his 17th victory against seven defeats with a four-hitter while Johnny Callison rapped three hits, drove in two and scored two.

One part of the Phillies' game features Short and fellow pitcher Jim Bunning while another includes Callison and rookie Richie Allen.

Short's 17th triumph came just one day after Bunning recorded his 17th victory. The aces of Philadelphia's pitching staff have followed that pattern recently.

Bunning won his 14th game Aug. 23, and Short followed suit three days later. Their 15th victories came Sept. 1 and 2, respectively, while the 16th plateau was reached Sept. 5 and 10.

Although Short, who will be 27 Saturday, has lost three more games than Bunning, his earned run average is lower — 1.85 to 2.23. In fact, only Sandy Koufax has a better ERA in the league, 1.74, and he's finished for the season.

Incidentally, if Short and Bunning each win 20 games, it will mark the first time since 1916 that the Phillies have had two winners in that category.

Grover Cleveland Alexander won 33 games and Eppa Rixey won 22 for the second-place Phillies that year.

But back to follow the leader. Allen and Callison have joined the fun the past two games. Allen, the second batter in the line-up Monday night, singled in the first inning before Callison, batting third, lofted his 27th homer, a season high for him.

The day before, Callison, third in the line-up, belted a run-scoring single in the 10th inning before Allen, hitting fourth, slammed his 26th homer. Callison's hit snapped a 1-1 tie, and Allen's blow clinched the victory.

Besides his home run Monday, Callison singled in the third and doubled and scored in the fifth.

Short lost his shutout bid in the eighth inning when Bob Lillis doubled and came around on two infield outs.

In the only other NL game, Pittsburgh whipped Los Angeles 7-2 as Bob Veale fired a five-hitter for his 17th victory against 10 losses. Dick Schofield drove in four of the Pirates' runs. His three-run double in the fourth broke a 2-2 deadlock.

The Review Sports

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 15, 1964 EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW PAGE 12

IT APPEARS Sonny Liston (left) and Cassius Clay (right) are asleep as Massachusetts Boxing Commissioner Herman Greenberg answers questions for press after the two heavyweights signed for a Nov. 16 fight at the Boston Gardens. Moments later the World Boxing Association announced that it is withdrawing recognition as champion from Clay and considering the Boston bout a non-title match. (UPI Telephoto)

Clay And Liston Will Battle Nov. 16 In Boston Garden

By BOB HOOBING
Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP) — Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay, pardon, Muhammad Ali, was strangely subdued. Challenger Sonny Liston actually smiled.

Gov. Endicott Peabody announced they'd meet in a Nov. 16 title fight at Boston Garden — to the surprise of no one.

The World Boxing Association quickly replied that everyone in the room was quarantined, as it were, by a sweeping suspension. Clay's title was lifted.

Clay, deep in thoughts of the Black Muslims and a 30 per cent slice of a predicted $5 million purse, looked as concerned as an elephant bitten by a gnat.

"Who are the WBA, they oughta be investigated," Liston said in scorn.

The WBA had threatened in advance to refuse to recognize a rematch.

The Massachusetts Boxing Commission, which has bounced in and out of that fisty forum faster than a man on a trampoline, as has Michigan, said it felt the safeguards it had undertaken would satisfy the WBA.

"This isn't really a return bout," said commissioner Ed Urbec. "We've arranged a fight between the champion and the top contender."

"We shouldn't have been allowed to vote in the last WBA meeting anyway. We didn't pay our dues last year or this year because of our financial condition."

"I can't visualize the public not accepting Clay as the champion. Titles are won or lost in the ring. This is the fight the public wants."

Gov. Peabody wasn't too concerned, either. "I look forward to a great fight," said the chief executive who did not win his party's renomination in the state primary.

The State Commission, in its statement, outlined stipulations for the 15-round bout. Chief among them is that the winner must post a $50,000 cash guarantee he'll meet one of the top four rated contenders as listed by the WBA within six months after the fight.

BOUGHT a new refrigerator for the training room, enlarged the concession stands, purchased uniforms, given team dinners, provided refreshments for the boys, bought blue and white banners for merchants to display on the day of the game, sponsored motorcades to away games, arranged for an annual reserve game....

Financial physical fitness programs, bought a Potter emblem for the pressbox, a $300 wrestling mat for Memorial Auditorium, warm-up jackets for athletes and coveralls for the managers, repaired the flagpole at the gridiron, sponsored banquets, built racks for weights used in muscle building, purchased cameras, projectors and films, whirlpool baths, and certificates for spelling champions, donated to the Thompson Park fund, and sponsored the annual Junior Basketball Tournament.

From providing such little things as fireworks for the games (costing $1.50 for each Potter touchdown) to big things like the concession stand enlargement and training room renovation, the club has always been there when needed.

Where does the money come from for all these expenditures?

LOCAL merchants, by and large, provide a great amount of operating cash through purchase each fall of "patron" membership tickets costing $5. The professional men and women also fall in this category.

The "plain, old sports fan" also does his share.

He'll have his chance to con-

LENNY GREEN, (6) Oriole pinch hitter is safe at second base when Charlie Lau also pinch hitting rapped a ball to John Goryl, Twins second baseman who is shown fumbling the ball as all hands are safe. The Orioles nipped the Twins, 4-3. (UPI Telephoto)

71 Leads Qualifiers In National Amateur

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

CLEVELAND (AP) — "I didn't get this nervous in the Rose Bowl, said Pandel Savic, the old Ohio State quarterback, as he teed up his ball in the National Amateur Golf Championship.

The results bore him out.

The husky glove salesman from Columbus, Ohio, staggered in with a 78 Monday, far back in the pack. When he was doing the passing for football-happy Ohio State he brought home a Big Ten championship in 1949 and a Rose Bowl victory.

The low score at the halfway mark of the 36-hole qualifying test was 71, set by Bob Greenwood, 25, of Cookeville, Tenn.; Dr. Edgar Updegraff, 42, from Tucson, Ariz., Ed Tutwiler, 45, of Indianapolis, and Charlie Smith, 33, of Gastonia, N.C.

Five others were at 72, including Downing Gray of Pensacola, Fla., the 1962 runner-up, and Bill Campbell of Huntington, W. Va., former Walker Cup captain.

The colorful Billy Joe Patton of Morganton, N.C., finished with three straight bogies for 73. Defender Deane Beman had 74.

None of the name players in the field was in any danger. It appeared that a score of about 150 or 151 over the testing Canterbury course would be necessary to qualify for match play which starts Wednesday.

The best 64 scorers in the 150-man field will advance.

No Information Withheld By League Cronin Claims

BOSTON (AP) — The American League office withheld no pertinent information Sept. 9 when club owners reaffirmed the sale of the New York Yankees to the Columbia Broadcasting System.

That's the answer President Joe Cronin has given Chicago owner Arthur A. Cronin said Monday Allyn's charges were "totally unfounded."

He then produced documents intended to refute Allyn's principal contentions and added he was mailing copies of the same papers to Chicago.

"Mr. Allyn's statement that the American League office deliberately withheld information is totally unfounded," Cronin said. "Nothing was withheld with which the owners could base their decision."

"I regret I have to make public what the American League normally treats as a privileged document," Cronin added. He then produced partial transcripts of the meeting at which approval was given to the sale of 80 per cent of the Yankees to the radio-TV medium.

The vote had been 8-2 with Allyn and Kansas City owner Charles O. Finley casting negative ballots.

The portion of the transcript in question involved remarks by John T. Hayes, league special counsel, concerning possible antitrust violations in the transaction. It said, in part:

"And I have been asked by the commissioner to state to this meeting that it is his view that such a risk exists. It is also his view that the matter has been passed upon by competent counsel."

In a letter to Cronin which he made public, Allyn said Commissioner Ford Frick had been advised of possible risk by his counsel, Paul A. Porter, but that Porter's sentiments in the matter had not been expressed at the meeting.

Qualifying Starts
PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Preparation for the $40,000 Portland Open golf tournament began Monday with a qualifying round for 80 of the players entered. There were 76 places open.

Milan, Italy, averages 200 days of rain a year.

OFF THE RECORD

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q--How can I repair loose drawer knobs?
A--Where the screw holes have enlarged, remove the knob, fill the hole with a sliver of wood (a piece of match stick will do), preferably dipped in glue, then screw the knob into them again. For knobs with wooden screws, apply glue to the threaded part and under the flange.

Q--How can I make my own copper polish?
A--A jar of paste made by blending flour, salt, and vinegar can be kept near your soap and cleanser. Rub this on your copper pans after washing, then rinse. Dry with a soft towel or paper toweling.

Q--How can I keep a coffee pot or a tea pot sweet and clean?
A--One of the best ways to do this is to put a tablespoon of bicarbonate of soda into the pot, fill with water, and let it boil for a few minutes. Then rinse in several changes of warm water.

Q--How can I make a better and more secure job of putting up shelves or hanging pictures on a plastered wall?
A--It's always a good idea to locate the studs, so that you can drive your nails into them for a more secure anchor. You can find these studs easily by aid of an ordinary compass, which will be attracted by the nails in the studs, thus showing the location of the latter.

Q--How can I make a good job of cleaning my piano keys?
A--With a soft cloth dipped in alcohol, or with a paste made by combining fine whiting with lemon juice. Wipe the keys clean with a damp cloth after each application.

Q--How can I remove crayon marks from a parchment-type lampshade?
A--By rubbing a ball of soft bread over the crayon marks.

Junior Editors Quiz on
CLAMS

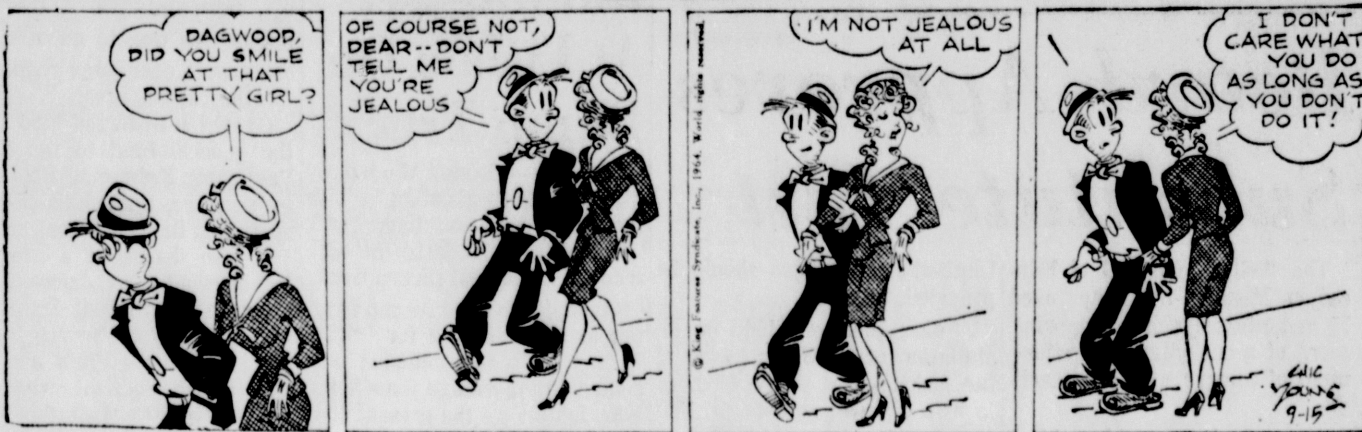

QUESTION: What kind of life does a clam have?

ANSWER: The average clam probably leads the easy-going life shown in the top picture, but many of them get into hot water, which is where the unfortunate clams in the bottom picture are going to end up. The soft body of the clam is so tasty and edible that a lot of creatures besides man enjoy dining on them. But few of these creatures can find the clams in the first place, because nature has given clams a remarkably successful way of hiding from enemies and getting the necessities of life at the same time. They accomplish this by lying buried in the sand or mud. As the tide comes in, the clam sticks up a tube called the "siphon." Through this he draws water into his body, which is protected by the hard outer shell. Like other living animals, the clam needs oxygen; he has gills which take the oxygen from the water and supply it to his blood. The water is also filled with various food particles such as tiny animals. These the clam strains out and uses for food. So, the clam has a remarkable amount of security and gets fed with hardly any effort on his part.

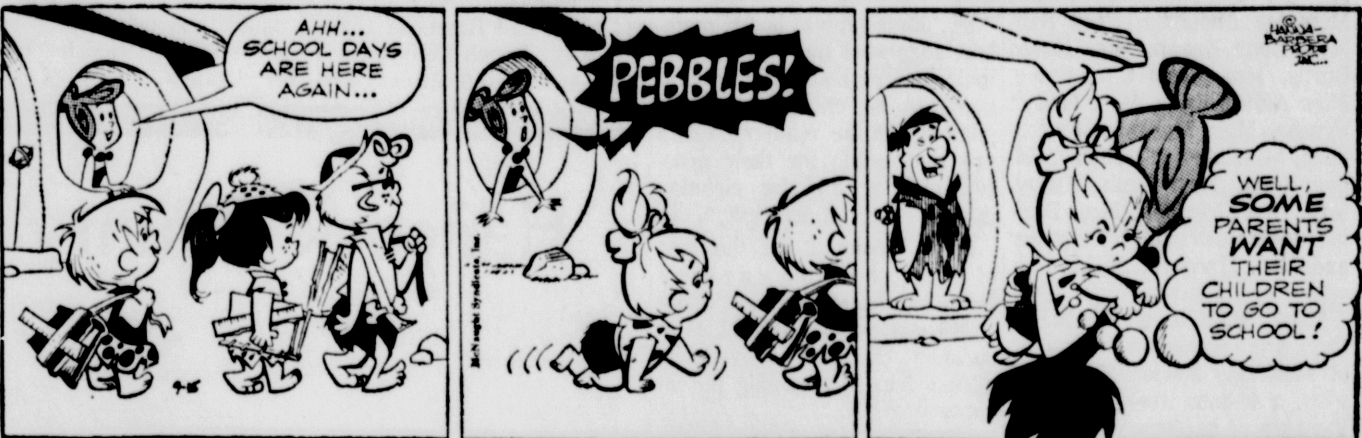

FOR YOU TO DO: See if you can name at least six other animals which have hard outer shells.

Scott Pierce of Norwalk, Conn., wins this week's grand prize of a 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia, for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review and you may win the weekly prize or the daily prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash.

Board Approves Substitute List

The Wellsville Board of Education Monday night approved 15 substitute teachers, appointment of a custodian and adjustment of contracts for two teachers.

The substitute teacher list for the 1964-65 term includes Miss Isa Anderson, Ford Ball, Mrs. Edna Brown, Miss Karen Burns, Mrs. Carol Chaffee, Miss Alda Fowler, Mrs. Evelyn Fraser, Miss Margaret Frischkorn, Mrs. Allene Galloway, Edgar John, Mrs. Ruth McCoy, Mrs. Ann McMillan, Mrs. Pauline Moore, Donald Shertzing and Mrs. Margaret Shoub.

MRS. MAMIE Wolf, 326 1st St., was appointed custodian of McKinley School. She will work a 40-hour week, based on the rate of $2,600 a year, when James Salsberry is working at Nicholson Stadium. Salsberry works at the stadium during the summer and football season. Mrs. Wolf received the highest score on a recent test given by the Civil Service Commission.

Mrs. Marjorie Dysert, an elementary instructor, was granted an additional $100 a year because of extra teaching experience and Miss Ruth Kerr was given the same amount for handling the educational testing in the high school.

The board accepted the resignation of Dominick Aimino as art teacher. He has accepted employment in a Pennsylvania school.

Supt. Lowell Myers said he has received an application for the post from a man who is completing his college work.

Until the position is filled, Mrs. Theresa Beggs will teach art in the afternoons as the Junior High School at the salary schedule of $22.64 per day and Mrs. Christine Mackov will serve as elementary art instructor two days a week at the rate of $28.33 per day.

DANIEL Fisher of East Liverpool was employed as a substitute instructor at Fairview School at Hillcrest at the rate of $32.11 per day. He is serving for a teacher who is ill and may be absent for some time.

Joseph Caporossi was named director of the Junior Class and Senior Class plays, a position he held last year. He is a teacher at the Immaculate Conception Parochial School.

Earl Mundy, supervisor of custodians and maintenance, reported on the work done at the buildings during the summer.

William Ferrall, vice president, complimented the custodians for the amount of work. Myers said the crews worked diligently and he also praised Mundy and the custodians.

The board agreed to have the schools remain on Daylight Saving Time through the last Sunday in October to coincide with the city. In the past, with the exception of last year, the school system returned to Eastern Standard Time at the end of September. The entire board was in agreement that it was better to remain in step with the city.

Lester Bickle, principal of Fairview and president of the Wellsville City Teachers Association, invited board members to the association's meetings. He said the meetings will be held Sept. 28 and the last Mondays in January and April of 1965.

MYERS reported an enrollment gain of 40 over the total last year. There are 1,883 students, compared with 1,843 in 1963.

He said this is slightly less than the projected enrollment. The total enrollment for each building, with the 1963 figure in parenthesis, includes Fairview, 161 (166); Garfield, 376 (350); McDonald, 430 (409); McKinley, 48 (49); Junior High, 274 (291); and High School, 594 (578).

Myers said schools will be dismissed early Oct. 2 to allow students to attend the Mills Brothers Circus being sponsored by the Hammond Park Commission.

Myers also reported the Wellsville Junior Chamber of Commerce had proposed construction of a new pressbox at Nicholson Stadium. He listed some of the specifications he said he feels should be incorporated.

He said it should be large enough to house three representatives each from radio station WOHI of East Liverpool and the visiting team's hometown station, two representatives each from The Review and Wellsville Press, two spotters, an announcer and the timer.

IT ALSO should have arrangements for two telephones, be wired for the official clock and have protected windows that could be raised on a clear night.

Limited heating also should be provided, he said.

A discussion was held on installation of ventilating fans in the lockerrooms at the stadium to help dry wet equipment. The cost for two large 24-inch fans would be $226.50.

Dr. Janis Lauva, board member, suggested the players take their jerseys and other apparel home to be cleaned. It was pointed out the team members are responsible for their practice clothing and for cleaning their regular game jerseys.

Ferrall pointed out the cost of insurance for the varsity team has been increased about $1,000 this year. The Miller Insurance Co. has waived its agency fees in providing the insurance.

MYERS SAID the Athletic Board will attempt operating a parking lot on the practice field to help raise money to defray the added costs.

Myers reported a meeting will be held Thursday at 3:30 p. m. at the high school for all Parent-Teacher Presidents, Ferrall from the board and Bickle to discuss plans for promoting better education.

The meeting is being held at the request of the Ohio Council for Education. Each school district has been asked to hold such sessions to promote the increase of Ohio sales tax from 3 to 4 per cent. The council plans to obtain 179,000 signatures on petitions asking the Ohio Legislature to pass the increase. Wellsville's goal is 179 signatures.

The Wellsville Board of Education went on record a year ago favoring the increase of the sales tax.

Myers said that half of the money used to operate the system comes from the state and that any increase will directly benefit Wellsville. It will increase the State Foundation funds.

A discussion was held on purchase of a pickup truck after Mrs. Margaret Lloyd, board member, suggested another be obtained for the supervisor of custodians.

A discussion also was held on the routing of buses to pick up children. The routes have been extended in some areas and cut down in others.

Council also gave second reading to an ordinance for Ohio Edison Co.'s new contract presented to the village June 9 for adoption before the present contract expires next Jan. 1.

Council transferred $450 from the general fund to the Sadie VanFossan Swimming Pool fund to pay the final bills for its operation this past season.

It also discussed a proposal for sidewalks on Jackson St., requested by School Supt. Oliver Payne, as children residing in Gander's Flats and Locust Grove Section, who live School, have to walk this year because of bus curtailment by the Board of Education. The request was turned over to the sidewalk committee for further investigation.

Elderly Pair Hurt In Crash

An elderly East Palestine couple suffered injuries Monday when their car was struck on E. 5th St. by a city bus operated by an East Palestine man.

Mr. and Mrs. George Rankin were taken to City Hospital after the mishap at 10 a. m. in which Edwin Sensenbaugher, 30, of W. Martin St. was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Mrs. Rankin, 85, suffered a whiplash injury of the neck, and her husband, 82, received bruises of the back. Both were released.

Rankin told police he was waiting for a traffic signal to change when his car was hit in the rear by the bus owned by the City Transit System of Calcutta.

Sensenbaugher said he saw the signal change from green to caution and Rankin stopped dead in front of him. The bus driver said he was unable to stop in time to avoid striking the car.

Police listed Mrs. Helen Shultz and Mrs. Beulah Bickerstaff, both of 573 E. Main St., East Palestine, as witnesses.
